A Walkable Community: Vision Becomes Reality

Have you spotted something different about your street or neighborhood recently?

Thanks to the Robinson Trust Sidewalk Initiative, newly constructed sidewalks are making it easier to get around town on foot. To date, new sidewalks have been completed on Holmes Drive NW, Pleasant Street SW, Plum Street SW, and Cabin Road SE. Several missing sidewalk links in other neighborhoods have also been completed, and beginning this spring, sidewalks are scheduled to be installed on Cherry Street SW and Adahi Road SE.

Resident Cheryl Umbel, who lives on Cabin Road, appreciates the positive attributes of the new sidewalk on her street, but she was opposed at first due to concerns about tree removal and the environment. Those concerns were alleviated once the project was completed.

“The Town was kind enough to replace a tree in my yard,” she said with appreciation. “I think they did a good job, and they did listen to me. It’s nice to see the people walking up and down the sidewalk and saying hello to each other.”

Holmes Drive resident Todd Fehd and others were eager to have the sidewalks installed in their neighborhood for safety reasons. “I’ve got three kids,” he said. “Until this [the sidewalk] was here, when they walked south down Holmes, it was in the street. Now they have sidewalks on all connections between here and Town, and they never have to get off the sidewalk.”

Fehd praised the Town’s open communication regarding the new sidewalk projects.

“The Town did a very good job of keeping everyone notified,” he said with appreciation. “The project manager, Alsinia, was able, generally within a business day or two, to get right back to me with whatever questions I had.”

Go Green – It’s Easier Than You Think!

Embracing a low-waste or zero-waste lifestyle may be intimidating for some, but the impact of even small changes can have a big impact on the health of the planet. Learn how to get started at this year’s Green Expo on Thursday, April 28, from 7-9 p.m. at the Vienna Community Center. More than two dozen exhibitors will be on hand with information about composting and recycling, beekeeping, pollinators and native gardens, home energy efficiency, Solarize Vienna, green landscaping, ways to reduce plastics, citizen science and volunteer opportunities, sustainable businesses in Vienna, and much more. Enjoy a live raptor exhibit and an opportunity to ask questions of the Town’s arborist. Enter a drawing to win a free rain barrel or composter. Kids can grab a passport and visit exhibitors, learn about the environment, and earn a prize. To celebrate Earth Day, students within the Madison Pyramid are also invited to enter the Town’s second annual Student Creativity Contest. For details, visit www.viennava.gov/CSC. Winners will receive a prize and have their essay/artwork featured at this year’s Green Expo. The annual Green Expo is organized by the Town’s Conservation and Sustainability Commission. 📍

The Town’s plan has always been to build sidewalks in the public right of way, the area between the curb and resident property line, as funding became available. Thanks to a generous legacy bequest left by former Councilmember Maud Robinson, the Town is able to expedite its plan for a walkable community. It’s something Maud Robinson and her husband, longtime Mayor Charles Robinson, envisioned to enable safe passage for people of all ages and abilities.

Residents Clear the Air in Community Forum

It was standing room only in the Council Chamber at Town Hall on March 15 as interested residents gathered to express their concerns about two active MAC-approved construction projects at 380 and 444 Maple Avenue. Both projects will progressively impact neighbors, neighborhoods, and anyone driving or walking in the vicinity of Maple Avenue and Nutley Street.

Residents near the current Sunrise Assisted Living construction project located at 380 Maple Ave. raised concerns about traffic safety in and out of their neighborhood, lane widths, missing sidewalks, lane closures, and lack of local parking being taken by construction workers. The community forum, organized by Councilmember Steve Potter, gave the residents an opportunity to share their concerns directly with Town leaders and representatives of Sunrise.

“I was pleased the meeting was so heavily attended,” said Potter. “It’s extremely important that our residents have an effective community engagement process in place that includes communications and allows dialogue in advance. This meeting moved us closer to that reality.”

Residents who attended were pleased their concerns were being addressed by both Sunrise representatives and Town leaders. Sunrise provided an opportunity for residents near its project to opt into a weekly email informing them of construction status reports and plans for the coming week.

To address confusion about which Town departments to call to report concerns, Town leaders decided to streamline the current approach by identifying a single point of contact to serve as a liaison between residents and appropriate staff regarding construction-related concerns or questions, and to serve as Town liaison with construction management. Moving forward communications should be directed to Emily Goodman who can be reached via email at Emily.Goodman@viennava.gov or by phone at 703-255-6384.

Sunrise representatives emphasized the company’s commitment to being “a good neighbor.” They also committed to exploring ways to alleviate resident street parking concerns, such as a shuttle option for construction workers.

The developer for the 444 Maple Ave. project indicated that Hekemian is currently in the “demolition” phase at the site. This will be followed by a “Keep Clean and Safe” phase. Its representative declined to attend the meeting because site plans and timelines are not yet complete. The company expressed interest in participating in a similar forum once plans are finalized and before construction begins. 📌

Vienna Police Department Holds Drug Take-Back Day

Get rid of old, expired medications in your home safely by dropping them off at the Vienna Police Department on National Drug Take-Back Day on April 30. Residents can stop by any time between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. and drop the medications in the collection box inside the Vienna Police Department temporary facility located at 301 Center St. S., formerly Faith Baptist Church. It’s okay to keep the medications in their original containers, but be sure to remove any identifying information from the prescription label. Epipens can also be dropped off, but no other intravenous solutions, injectables or syringes will be accepted due to associated hazards. Vienna’s Drug Take-Back Day is being held in conjunction with the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration and state and local law enforcement agencies. 📌

Moving Forward

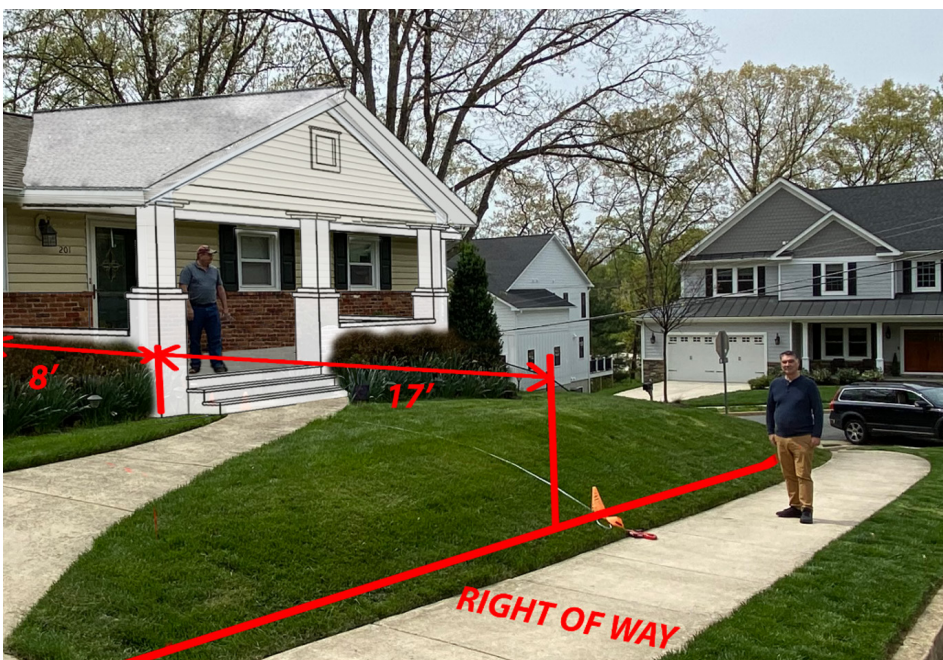

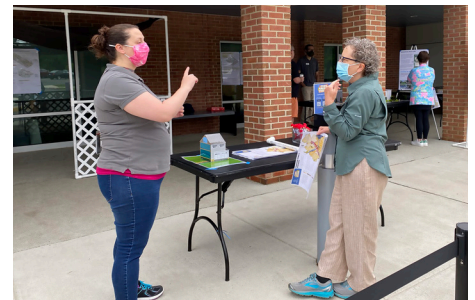

By Dr. Nisha Patel, Vienna Town Councilmember

In September 2020, the Town began the process of updating the local subdivision and zoning code. Since then, the Town Council has received multiple updates on the process based on lots of community feedback from Code Create surveys, listening sessions and other outreach efforts as we continue the process of clarifying, simplifying and reorganizing the code to meet the modern-day needs of our residents. While completely updating the full, 60-year-old code will take time, I am pleased that elements of the ordinance are moving forward to the benefit of town residents.

At the March 21, 2022 Town Council meeting, the Vienna Town Council approved and adopted the portion of the code dealing with front porch projections. This updated portion of the code allows homeowners with homes built at or near the front setback line to construct a covered front porch on their property, which would provide another option for outdoor family space to accommodate modern-day needs. The new structures still must conform with strict size requirements, but the added space will enhance curb appeal and provide an enjoyable option for family living.

Over the next year or so, the Town Council will consider other zoning code updates, such as lot coverage, and determine whether changes should be made. Town of Vienna zoning staff members continue to work diligently to review the code and look forward to more events in 2022 to meet with the community to obtain feedback on proposed zoning code options. I encourage you to visit the Code Create website for the latest information on the process and for opportunities to provide feedback: www.codecreatevienna.com. You can also email your feedback at codecreate@viennava.gov. It is important that we hear from you, so that we can make thoughtful, informed decisions based on the needs of our community. By working together, we can ensure that any code updates are thoughtful and purposeful to the benefit of our beautiful town. 🙌

Congratulations to the 2022 Photo Show award winners and especially to David Kepley whose Animal photo won Best in Show! Nearly 100 entries were submitted by amateur photographers ranging in age from 12 to adult in this year's event at the Vienna Community Center, making judging especially challenging! While professional photographers scored each entry and awarded ribbons in multiple categories, the public got a chance to vote for their favorites, too. The event was held March 19-20. This year's People's Choice Award went to James Madison High School student Melissa LaRue for her animal photo. For a list of winners and runners up in all categories, visit www.viennava.gov/photo. 📷

Arbor Day is typically celebrated in most states on the last Friday in April.

Recycling Right

By Patty Esswein, Conservation and Sustainability Commission

Recycling or trash? Sometimes it’s hard to tell! According to the Vienna Public Works Department, town residents put out 1,500 tons of recyclables in 2021, which the Town’s contractor, American Disposal Services, picked up curbside and hauled to its material recycling facility where it’s sorted and baled for sale. The problem is about a third of the items tossed into curbside bins are not recyclable and gets sent to a landfill for a cost.

To clear up confusion about what can and can’t be recycled, check out American Disposal’s online Waste Wizard: <https://bit.ly/ADwastewizard>. With this tool, you can search by item or material, learn whether the item is recyclable or not and see any special instructions. The company also publishes a guide to curbside recycling: <https://bit.ly/ADrecycleguide>.

Here are some common items that can be recycled:

- Clear or colored plastic bottles, tubs and lids numbered #1 and #2 and all wide-mouth plastics labeled #5
- “Gabled” milk and juice cartons (peaked like a house roof)
- Clamshell containers (like those that contain berries or salad greens)
- Aluminum foil

These items cannot be recycled and should be thrown in the trash:

- Items smaller than a yogurt cup, such as loose bottle caps
- Anything made of black plastic or Styrofoam
- Flat-top cartons that contain soup, broth, milk or juice and juice pouches
- Plastic straws
- Paper take-out food containers and cardboard drink cup trays
- Plastic wrap and waxed paper

There are some items, like pizza boxes, that may or may not be eligible for recycling. Pizza boxes are recyclable if they are mostly clean. If they are especially greasy, they should be thrown in the trash.

Plastic, wire and wood hangers are not recyclable in the curbside bin. You can, however, give them new life by donating them or returning them to dry cleaning businesses.

Perhaps the most important rule for curbside recycling is to put items unbagged and loose in the bin to keep operations running smoothly. Plastic bags are a big no-no, as are plastic cords and wires, because they clog the recycling facility’s equipment and lead to equipment shutdowns. 📌

Become a Sustainability Challenge Champion

Here’s a great way for businesses and organizations to test their green practices and enjoy a little friendly competition at the same time – the Conservation and Sustainability Commission’s annual Sustainability Challenge! To be certified, participants evaluate current practices and document sustainability activities in one or more of five areas: energy, water, waste, transportation, and purchasing. Participation is free, voluntary, and self-certified. Winners will be recognized during Vienna’s “Business Month” in May. Sustainability Challenge Champions are organizations that have completed all five categories in previous years. For more information, go to www.viennava.gov/sustainability. Entries are due by Wednesday, April 20, 2022. 📌

Public Works Department Begins Pipe Cleaning

Spring cleaning isn’t just for your house. Public Works crews flush water mains every spring to help maintain a high standard of water quality and to ensure the Town’s 800+ fire hydrants operate properly. The work this year began on March 24 and goes until May 12 or until all mains have been flushed. The work takes place from 10:30 p.m. until 7 a.m. To learn more about Vienna’s water main flushing program, visit <https://bit.ly/WaterMainFlushing>. 📌

Topic on deck for April: Code Create

It’s been 60 years since the Town’s zoning code was updated, and modern trends are quite different than the standards of yesteryear. Join Town Manager Mercury Payton and Planning and Zoning staff on the front porch at 851 Shady Drive SE for an update on recent changes to portions of the Town’s zoning code and the efforts to modernize the entire plan.

On Deck with Mercury is a monthly community forum inviting residents to participate in an open discussion about Town accomplishments, initiatives and projects. The program is videotaped, and once the cameras are off, residents have an opportunity to ask questions.

If you missed last month’s On Deck with Mercury program at Cocoa Vienna on the Vienna Police Department’s new body-worn camera program, you can still catch it online: <https://bit.ly/BWCcameras>. Payton and Police Chief Jim Morris discuss the benefits the cameras bring to law enforcement officers and the entire community.
