TOWN HALL WILL BE CLOSED ON MONDAY, OCTOBER 8, FOR COLUMBUS DAY. TRASH WILL BE COLLECTED AS USUAL THAT DAY.

Special Pickup News

Fall leaf collection begins November 5. No Special Trash Pickups will be made during November and December because the Public Works Department crews who normally handle Special Pickups will be assigned to leaf collection during that period.

During October, it may take a little longer than usual to receive a Special Pickup. The Public Works Department is resurfacing some streets before winter, and this will reduce the manpower available for Special Pickup crews.

FREE FIREWOOD

Over the last several months, the Town's Special Pickup crews have collected a lot of wood. Rather than paying to dump it at the County landfill, the Town is making the wood available to residents free of charge.

The wood is stored behind the salt dome at the Northside Park property yard, located at the end of Glyndon Street, N.E. Residents may pick up wood Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in any amount for as long as it lasts.

The wood is in the form of logs. It is recommended that residents be prepared to split the wood at Northside and then take it home.

Lovelace, representative to the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors; Vincent J. Olson, representative to the Centreville District Citizens Park Advisory Council; Robert W. Robinson, Vienna Centennial Committee. In addition, Mayor Charles A. Robinson, Jr., was appointed chairman of the Town Charter Review Committee, with Councilmen Robinson and Olson, the Town Manager and the Town Attorney.

Town Hall to Recycle Paper

The Town Council recently approved an office paper recycling program at Town Hall. It is estimated that between 43 and 77% of office trash consists of high-grade paper, which can be recovered through recycling. The start-up cost for the program will come from the revenue generated, after which the Town will receive the funds from the sale of the recycled paper.

Buying recycled paper is an important way for individuals and

- Approved Fairfax County's request to construct an asphalt sidewalk on the east side of Park Street between Adahi Road and Moore Avenue. The location and construction of the sidewalk is to be approved by and coordinated with the Director of Public Works. The County School Board will be informed of the Town's concerns and the possible future request of the Town to delete the sidewalk from the County plan, and written confirmation obtained.

- Directed the Town staff to seek a conditional use permit to place recycling containers at the Community Center parking lot.

businesses to stimulate demand for the scrap paper collected from offices and helps the environment in a number of ways. Every ton of recycled paper produced:

- Uses 4,200 kilowatt hours less energy than nonrecycled paper;
- Requires 7,000 fewer gallons of water than nonrecycled paper;

- Eliminates 60 pounds of air pollution effluents that would have been produced if the paper had been manufactured from wood pulp;

- Saves approximately 17 trees; and

- Conserves three cubic yards of landfill capacity.

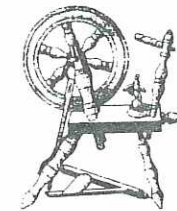

Even though buying recycled paper obviously makes good environmental sense, many people are unfamiliar with the quality. Does it look as good and perform as well as virgin paper? The answer is yes! Recycled paper comes in almost every kind of grade and color imaginable, from plain white bond or copier paper to colored offset printing paper.

A list of local distributors of recycled paper is available from the Fairfax County Division of Solid Waste, 3930 Pender Dr., Fairfax, VA 22030, phone 246-5052.

Comment from the Council Table

A Future Bright with Promise

By Robert B. Dix, Jr.
Vienna Town Councilman

On Saturday, September 15, Vienna's Caboose #503 was dedicated along with the recently created Centennial Park. Truly, as the railroad was such a significant part of Vienna's past and Centennial Park will be a visible part of Vienna's future, we now have another clear example of "A heritage rich with tradition and a future bright with promise." The collective efforts of those who volunteered their resources to this accomplishment have been nothing short of magnificent.

As I reflect on those efforts, I am reminded of just how important a sense of community is to each of us and how hard we are willing to work for its preservation. I have just recently returned from the annual Virginia Municipal League conference, where I have the opportunity to chat with elected officials from all over the Commonwealth. Many of us share the same day-to-day challenges; however, as I listen to my colleagues from various jurisdictions, I am positively reinforced by the progress we continue to display in Vienna.

Thanks to the conscientious tenacity of several Council members, citizens and staff, Vienna currently has one of the most comprehensive recycling plans in place of any municipality in Virginia.

By utilizing the management tools available, Vienna has designed and set in motion a comprehensive infrastructure refurbishment program that will ensure the condition and maintenance of our water and sewer system throughout the Town.

We are blessed with a Town staff of professionals who are dedicated to the safety and welfare of the citizenry as well as to protecting our land use policy, which has been vital to the preservation of a community made up of neighborhoods and, more important, the people who live in them.

Vienna has a business and professional sector that is stable, diverse and a generous, working partner in this community. As you travel through Town, do you realize how many of our business and professional folks have been here since before you came to Vienna?

And as I speak to people from around the state as well as the region in my various capacities, there is almost always some discussion that leads to the incredible citizen participation that occurs in Vienna. Many of the significant achievements in Vienna are the product of citizens coming together for a particular cause.

As we move into the fall season and the leaves begin to change, may we take pride in knowing that, while we are not without our own set of challenges, we are an active, vibrant and balanced community that seeks to maintain a quality of life for all of its citizens.

As our Centennial year works its way to a close, a year we have celebrated vigorously, may your accomplishments dwarf the dreams you had as a child, may we recognize and be proud of our heritage, and may we continue to work together to experience a "Future Bright with Promise."

Wheelchairs to Race through Vienna on Trail

Vienna residents are invited to cheer on the participants in this year's Wheelchair Race of Champions along the Washington and Old Dominion Regional Trail on Tuesday, October 2. The race will begin in Purcellville, and contestants are expected to pass by Vienna's caboose about 10:30 a.m., where a group of state and local officials will be gathered to show their support for these athletes.

The Wheelchair Race of Champions focuses attention on wheelchair athletes and their accomplishments by accentuating that ability counts. It has become a motivator to disabled athletes everywhere and an inspiration to all people who enjoy competition and the challenge to be the best.

This is the second annual running of the Wheelchair Race of Champions, with the top 10 long-distance wheelchair racers in the country competing. The race will end around noon in Washington, D.C., with Vice President Dan Quayle and Virginia Senator Charles Robb at the finish line to congratulate all participants.

Thanks to corporate sponsors, last year's event paid a purse of $22,000, including a $5,000 first-place prize, and raised nearly $60,000 for charity.

"SPEEDING CYCLISTS ARE UNSAFE"

Safety Tip of the Month
From Your Vienna

Transportation Safety Commission

Two groups of people who use the Washington and Old Dominion Trail are increasingly at odds with each other. Walkers and runners complain that bicyclists speed along the trail with no regard for safety, causing many near-miss accidents. The W&OD Trail is for everyone, so we encourage bicyclists to slow down and be considerate of others.

VIENNA VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

What do you do if your house is on fire? CALL 9 1 1, and the firetrucks rush to your home, hook up to the hydrant and put out the fire. How did people put out fires in 1890? There were few telephones, no hydrants and no fire trucks in our town. Many people lost their homes and their lives in fires.

So in 1903, storekeeper Leon Freeman and some other townspeople set up the Vienna Volunteer Fire Department. They raised $160 to buy a cart with water. When a fire began, the fireman were called by ringing the bell at a church. The firefighters ran to Freeman's store to get the cart from under the porch. They pulled the cart to the fire, and put the fire out.

In 1990, we have a modern fire department, with ambulances, on duty 24 hours a day. Our newest fire truck cost more than $100,000. Most of this money came from donations and money raised by the firefighters and Ladies Auxiliary.

October Is Public Safety Month

This month, the Vienna Centennial Committee salutes the many members, past and present, of the Vienna Police Department and the Vienna Volunteer Fire Department and its Ladies' Auxiliary.

When the first Town Charter was approved on February 28, 1890, it provided for the appointment of a Town Sergeant who would have the authority, jurisdiction and fees of a constable of Fairfax County. The first individual to be appointed to the position is believed to be George Washington Constable. Following him were J.J. Skillman in 1907, J.T. Pettitt in 1924, Russel Waggoner in 1925, W.E. Thompson in 1930, F.M. Fritter in 1931, George Perzel in 1933, John Titus in 1934, Warren R. Bradford in 1936, and James Goldsborough in 1947.

On November 3, 1947, the Town Council approved the purchase of a car to be equipped with a two-way radio for police work. On January 31, 1948, Officer Goldsborough submitted his resignation, and a special meeting of the Council was held to appoint a new Town Sergeant. It was decided that the new officer must live within the corporate limits, would serve active duty of eight hours a day and be on call 24 hours. Special attention was to be given when children were on the way to and from school.

In 1948, Kenneth M. Carkin was appointed Town Sergeant, and it was under his administration that the Vienna Police Department was organized. The end of World War II brought about a rapid growth in the population and development of the town, and a demand for increased police services.

By 1959 there were 11 full-time and 5 part-time officers. The Department moved from a space in the Mayor's office to its present location in the basement of Town Hall. It had four vehicles and a dispatcher on duty 24 hours a day. Also organized within the Department were a Detective Bureau and a Traffic Safety Bureau.

Today the Department is staffed by 39 sworn officers and 11 civilian personnel. It is organized into two divisions, Operations and Support Services. The Department has several specialized units, including Traffic, Narcotics, Tactical Services, Community Services, and Criminal Investigations. To maintain all departmental records, an automated records system was developed in 1984.

The Vienna Volunteer Fire Department is currently in its 87th year of providing fire and rescue service to the Vienna area. VVFD's Ladies' Auxiliary was organized around 1927 and raises money for the Department through dinners, dances, bingo, bake sales, bazaars and other activities.

No records of the Auxiliary's early years exist; however, some of the original members recall that the group donated $500 toward construction of the first fire station in 1929. In 1989 and 1990, the Auxiliary contributed $75,000 to the Fire Department for the new Med Unit, which is now in service.

The Auxiliary has been called out on emergencies such as house fires and plane crashes, and provided support the night the Filene Center at Wolf Trap burned. The Auxiliary has also served lunch to the volunteers while they trained in fighting fires and is prepared to assist whenever they can be useful.

Centennial Golf Tournament Oct. 22

There are still a few four-some slots available for the Vienna Centennial Captain's Choice Golf Tournament, to be played on Monday, October 22, at Westwood Country Club.

The entry fee of $85 per person includes cart, greens fees, beverages on the course, lunch, dinner, awards and prizes. Make checks payable to Vienna Centennial Committee, c/o Vienna Town Hall, 127 Center St., S., Vienna, VA 22180.
