

This Month in History

from the Vienna Newsletter archives

AUGUST 1995 – A “Vienna-Madison Community Coalition” is being formed to address the presence of alcohol, drugs and violence among Vienna area youth. The coalition includes representatives from Madison High School, Thoreau Middle School and the nine elementary schools that feed into them; area churches; civic organizations; businesses and local government. The coalition is funded through the Safe and Drug Free Schools Act to create a proactive school-community partnership.

AUGUST 1985 – The newly formed Town/Business Liaison Committee has established a meeting schedule and rules governing its proceedings. The committee was created by the Town Council “to study, analyze, evaluate and offer recommendations to the Town Council on matters of public policy which in any way may affect the Town’s business community or the relationship of the business community to other segments of the town.”

AUGUST 1975 – The historic residence of the famous colonial religious freedom fighter Jeremiah Moore has been conveyed to the Town by DeLuca Enterprises. DeLuca had earlier conveyed some 11 acres of land adjacent to Nottoway Park to the Town. Slated for the remaining section of the tract are 150 townhouses.

“Tip & Toss” Water to Fight West Nile

The most effective way to eliminate the mosquitoes around your home that may carry the West Nile virus is to tip and toss the standing water where mosquitoes lay their eggs. Common problem areas and ways to correct them are:

- Roof gutters: clean out leaves and debris blocking and holding water.
- Bird baths: clean and change the water every five to seven days.
- Wading pools: change water regularly and turn over when not in use.
- Drainage ditches: keep open and free from debris that holds water.
- Canoes and boats: cover with a tight-fitting tarp or turn upside down.
- Tarps on woodpiles or garden equipment: remove sagging areas.
- Ornamental ponds: stock with small fish.
- Puddles and wet or soggy areas: drain or backfill.
- Standing water on your property: treat with a larvicide.

For more information on how to protect yourself from mosquitoes, call the Fairfax County Health Department at 703-246-2300 or visit www.fairfaxcounty.gov/fightthebite.

Yard Sale Reminder

Each household in town may hold two yard sales per year. No permit is required. Two advertising signs, no larger than four square feet each, may be displayed on the property where the sale takes place, and four directional signs, no larger than two square feet each, may be placed on other private property with the owner’s permission. Signs may not be exhibited more than two days prior to the start of the sale. Signs are not permitted on public property, in the public right-of-way (10 feet from the curb or edge of pavement) or on utility poles. Illegally placed signs will be removed. For more information or to report violations, call the Planning and Zoning Department at 703-255-6341.

Vienna Listed in Money Magazine’s Top 10 “Best Places to Live”

Money Magazine has selected the Town of Vienna as one of the top ten “Best Places to Live” in the United States for 2005. Vienna ranked number four behind Moorestown, NJ, Bainbridge Island, WA, and Naperville, IL. Following Vienna on the list were Louisville, CO, Barrington, RI, Middleton, WI, Peachtree City, GA, Chatham, NJ, and Mill Valley, CA.

The magazine staff spent months looking for great American towns. They began by considering only those with a population above 14,000 and with above-median household income, population growth and real estate appreciation over the past 5 years. Those restrictions led to a list of 1,321 places.

From there, they eliminated places that aren’t within 60 miles of a major airport and 30 miles of a major teaching hospital. They also eliminated towns with low education scores and those falling below the 25th percentile in any two of the following: unemployment, income growth, crime or arts resources.

That left 100 towns, which were ranked, with economic, education and safety factors weighing twice as much as arts, leisure and park space. Each metropolitan area was limited to one or two places.

To pick the winners, more data were culled on education, environment, housing affordability, taxes, commute times and job market. Magazine writers also interviewed residents and community leaders. Here’s a portion of what they wrote about Vienna:

“Much of bustling Fairfax County feels like it was built last week. Not Vienna, a much prized piece of ground in the Civil War. An active historical society is run out of the antebellum Freeman House, which served as a makeshift Civil War hospital and later as a post office, a general store and a train depot. Kids can even attend a summer history camp.

“Today, Vienna is valued for its jobs and schools. Median income is more than $110,000, and IBM, Capital One and AOL are among dozens of big-name companies with large operations in the area. And D.C. and federal employment are just 12 miles away.

“Unfortunately, jobs outnumber houses. Result: Over the past five years, the median home price in Vienna has nearly doubled. Older homes can be had for $500,000, but new construction goes for north of $700,000. On the plus side, property taxes aren’t bad and the local high school consistently ranks among the country’s best.”

Three other Virginia jurisdictions ranked in the top 100 communities: Yorktown (#33), Midlothian (#37) and Charlottesville (#90).

Protect Yourself Against Lyme Disease

A Summer Tip from Your Community Enhancement Commission

You don't have to go hiking in the woods to be at risk for Lyme disease. Even in our area, it can be contracted right in our own yards, especially if deer are present. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends these personal protection measures:

- If you are going to be in areas that are tick infested, wear light-colored clothing so that ticks can be spotted more easily and removed before becoming attached. Wearing long-sleeved shirts and tucking pants into socks or boot tops may help keep ticks from reaching your skin. Ticks are usually located close to the ground, so wearing high rubber boots may provide additional protection.

- The risk of tick attachment can also be reduced by applying insect repellents containing DEET (n,n-diethyl-m toluamide) to clothes and exposed skin, and applying permethrin (which kills ticks on contact) to clothes. DEET can be used safely on children and adults but should be applied according to Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) guidelines to reduce the possibility of toxicity.

The early diagnosis and proper antibiotic treatment of Lyme disease are important to avoid the costs and complications of infection. For more information, call the Lyme disease hotline, 1-800-886-LYME, or visit Fairfax County's Lyme disease information page at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/service/hd/westnile/wnvlyme.htm.

NEW TOOL FOR TICK MANAGEMENT – A pest management professional installs a Maxforce® Tick Management System bait box in a landscaped area near a home. Seventy-five percent of Lyme disease cases are contracted within 100 feet of the home. Developed by Bayer Environmental Science in conjunction with scientists from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Maxforce has been shown to reduce the deer tick population on home properties 80% after one year, and 96% after two years. For more information, visit www.maxforcetms.com or call 1-800-331-2867.

Sewer Backups Are Expensive! Backup Insurance Is Not!

All insurance companies writing homeowner policies in Virginia offer special coverage for damage resulting from backups of drains and sewers, and this additional protection is available at very reasonable rates. For information on obtaining sewer backup coverage, contact your insurance company. The Town's insurance carrier rarely approves claims resulting from sewer backups unless negligence in maintaining the system can be shown. Therefore, residents are encouraged to protect their property by obtaining sewer backup insurance.

If you experience a problem with clogged sewer lines in your home, call the Public Works Department, 703-255-6381, before you call a commercial sewer cleaning service; you may save yourself the price of a service call. A public works crew will check out the main sewer line and, if the obstruction occurs there, will clean it out at no charge to you.

To help prevent sewer backups, the Public Works Department cleans the main sewer lines whenever residents notify the department that their service laterals have been rodded by a commercial sewer cleaning service. Pressure cleaning to remove material washed into the main sewer line from the service lateral may help prevent future blockage of the main line. If you have your sewer service lateral cleaned, please call the Public Works Department.

The discharge of anything other than waste and toilet paper through residential sewers can cause a stoppage in the house line or in the main sewer, resulting in property damage. Items that should never be flushed down toilets include disposable diapers, paper towels and sanitary napkins. These and other non-fluid items should be disposed of with the regular trash.

Flood Insurance – The Town of Vienna participates in the National Flood Insurance Program, which covers direct losses caused by surface flooding, including local drainage problems. Copies of the Flood Insurance Rate Map are available for review in the Department of Public Works. For more information, call 703-255-6381.

Comment from the Council Table "McMansions" Cause for Concern

By Edythe Frankel Kelleher
Vienna Town Councilwoman

How exciting! Money magazine named Vienna the fourth best place to live in the country. But there is growing concern about the "McMansionization" of Vienna. Can our neighborhoods be renovated and redeveloped without damaging the charm that makes Vienna such a desirable place to live? Can more restrictions be placed that are allowed under the Code of Virginia, which leans toward private property rights?

In some ways, Vienna is already more restrictive on residential development than other local jurisdictions. Vienna limits impervious lot coverage to 25%; Arlington County has a 56% limit (for buildings and driveways only) and is considering new limits, while Fairfax County has no limit at all.

According to Sakura Namioka, an Arlington County Planner, there were so many concerns about further limiting lot coverage that the approach has been softened. Instead of applying one limit to all zoning districts, the lot's size would determine the limit on a sliding scale from 56% to 35%. Because many existing homes would be in violation of the new restriction, it would apply only to new construction and substantial additions. Still, Ms. Namioka noted that a home covering 40% of an 8,000 square foot lot would seem quite large compared to a home covering 40% of a 5,000 square foot lot.

Vienna limits building height to 35 feet, from the finished grade to the peak of the roof, but Fairfax and Arlington Counties allow taller homes by measuring 35 feet to the roof's midpoint. Montgomery County, Maryland, measures height from the curb, resulting in a more even appearance from the street. But, because this creates inequities based on whether the lot is a hill or a valley, Montgomery is considering changing to measuring from the lot's grade, according to recent Washington Post reports.

Lorrie Kirst, Fairfax County's Deputy Zoning Administrator for the Zoning Ordinance Branch, reports that, since the Board of Supervisors endorsed the staff's

Infill Study in 2001, several of the study's recommendations have been adopted. New requirements for stormwater management and tree preservation are intended to preserve neighborhood character, although under Virginia law these requirements apply only to subdivisions, not new homes on existing lots. (Vienna already uses these provisions.)

Trying to make new construction more compatible with existing Fairfax County homes has been more challenging. Ms. Kirst says that instituting a lot coverage limit would maximize green space while restricting impervious surface and building bulk. However, it would create many nonconforming (or "grandfathered") residences. This would mean great hardship for existing homeowners who wanted to make even minor modifications.

Another method under consideration in Fairfax County is the creation of Neighborhood Conservation Overlay Districts. These would be rezonings requested by communities, and could include provisions such as lower building height and square footage restrictions. But the method requires a change to Virginia law. In addition, since they would be rezonings, if some property owners did not agree, the district would have "holes" where the new restrictions would not apply.

Under current Virginia law, any neighborhood could impose its own restrictions, through deed covenants, but these would be private contracts not enforceable by government. A homeowners association (HOA) could revise its covenants with a two-thirds majority vote, but a neighborhood not covered by an HOA would need to obtain the agreement of every individual homeowner, a time-consuming proposition.

Considering the dilemmas faced by other jurisdictions, Vienna is fortunate to have had stricter limits in place for many years. Our current regulations try to strike a balance between economic vibrancy and neighborhood character, and we should monitor the efforts of others to determine if additional regulations would have a positive influence on residential development in Vienna.

Historic Vienna Seeks Old Photos

Do you have old pictures of people, places or events from Vienna? Then Historic Vienna, Inc. (HVI) is looking for you! If you have photographs to donate or lend, please contact HVI, 703-938-5187, or Jean Johnston, Patrick Henry Library Branch Manager, 703-938-0405. Photos can be scanned and returned.

The photos will be displayed as part of Vienna's "Virginia 2007" community celebration of the 400th anniversary of the founding of Jamestown in 1607. Jamestown was the first permanent settlement in the New World for what was to become the United States.

The Virginia 2007 committee meets regularly, usually at 2 p.m. on the fourth Thursday of the month at Marco Polo Restaurant, 245 Maple Ave., W. All interested residents, businesses and community organizations are invited to attend. For more information, contact chairman Paul Snodgrass at 703-938-5187 or e-mail hviadmin@ci.vienna.va.us.

Budget Adopted for FY 2005-2006

The Town's adopted budget for fiscal year 2005-2006, which began July 1, totals $25,971,748 for all funds, an increase of $1,605,538 or 6.1% over last year.

The budget is based on a real estate tax rate of 22¢, a reduction of 16.98% from last year's tax rate. This means is that if a property's assessment has increased by 20% or less, there will be a reduction in the property tax due the Town. If the assessment has increased by 25%, as an example, the total tax due the Town would increase by 3.8%.

A major problem for this fiscal year occurs in the Water and Sewer Fund, where the Town is faced with substantial increases both in the price of purchased water and for sewage treatment. These price increases necessitated a significant rate increase in both water and sewer service charges. For town residents, the water rate has increased from $2.83 to $3.33 per 1,000 gallons and the sewer rate from $3.57 to $4.45 per 1,000 gallons. Overall, a town resident will pay an additional $104.88 per year or just over 28¢ per day for water and sewer service based on a quarterly average use of 19,000 gallons.

A "Budget in Brief" summary is shown below. For more information about the budget or to obtain printed copies, contact the Administrative Services Office at 703-255-6350.

Yard Waste Reminder

The Public Works Department reminds residents that leaves and grass clippings must be bagged for pickup. Trash collection crews will take a maximum of 10 bags (including regular trash) per residence each collection day. Heavy bags of grass are very difficult for the crews to lift, so please remember there is a 40-pound weight limit per bag. Please do not dump leaves and grass in drainage ditches.

Donations for wounded service men and women hospitalized in Iraq are still needed by the American Red Cross. Most-requested items include magazines; CDs; men's and women's underwear, socks, T-shirts, sport shorts and flip-flops/shower shoes; towels, sheets and pillow cases; stationery and pens; and toiletry items. Town residents may drop off donations at Vienna American Legion Post 180, ATTN: Joyce, 330 Center St., N.

VVFD Receives $50,000 State Grant to Assist in Fire Station Renovations

The new Virginia State budget that took effect on July 1 includes a $50,000 grant approved by the General Assembly to provide financial assistance to the Vienna Volunteer Fire Department (VVFD) for the major renovations of the Vienna fire station (Station 2). Delegate Steve Shannon, who represents the greater Vienna-Oakton area, sponsored this budget amendment.

"The Vienna volunteers have a long and illustrious record of service to the residents of the 35th District that includes the Town of Vienna and surrounding areas. They have labored creatively to fund the modernization of the local fire station, and I believed the state should provide its fair share," Shannon said.

The 1958 community firehouse owned by the Vienna Volunteer Fire Department is a fixture in the center of Vienna and is the third home of the 102-year old department. Realizing the cost to build a new station was prohibitive, fire department volunteers made the decision in 2000 to renovate and expand the existing facility. The total project cost was set at $3.5 million. The first phase of the renovation project, completed in 2002, involved a new facade and higher emergency vehicle apparatus doors. Renovations under Phase II in 2004 involved installing fire sprinklers and building a new fire escape stairwell and public restroom. The final phase, costing $2.8 million and started early this year, includes expanding and upgrading the operational living quarters for both career and volunteer staff, new administrative offices, a completely renovated community hall and new training space.

With the help of the Vienna community, the volunteers have raised and spent over the past several years more than $700,000 for approved architectural plans and the first two phases of the fire station renovations. In addition to the State grant of $50,000, the balance of the $2.8 million in construction costs for the final and largest phase currently underway has or is being raised through grants and contributions from Fairfax County, the Town of Vienna, the federal government and the ongoing Vienna Fire Station Capital Campaign.

To contribute to VVFD's Capital Campaign, send a check to: Vienna Volunteer Fire Department Capital Campaign Committee, P.O. Box 1061, Vienna, VA 22183. For more information, visit www.vvfd.org.

HAPPENINGS AROUND OUR TOWN

Help Prevent Runoff Pollution

Urban landscaping typically covers the ground with impervious surfaces such as pavement and buildings. These impervious surfaces generate stormwater runoff every time it rains. (A typical city block generates nine times more runoff than a woodland area of the same size!)

When rainfall washes across the land surfaces, the initial flush of runoff can carry high concentrations of pollutants such as excess lawn fertilizers and pesticides, and bacteria from animal waste, to nearby waterways. Pollution washed from the land surface by rainfall is called nonpoint source pollution.

You can help prevent nonpoint source pollution in many ways. Some examples are:

- Apply pesticides according to instructions on the label.
- Collect litter and animal waste before they wash into storm drains.
- Recycle grass clippings and leaves by mulching or composting.
- Never dump oil or any other material into a storm drain.
- Direct roof runoff onto a grassy area. Roof drains should not be connected to a sanitary or storm sewer system.
- Watch for soil erosion around your home. Seed, install sod or plant ground cover to protect the site.
- Use porous surfaces such as flagstone, gravel, stone, and interlocking pavers rather than concrete and asphalt.

VIENNA SHARES ITS FISHY KEY CHAIN

Many town residents carry one of the Town's environmental awareness key chains in the shape of a fish (shown at right), a crab or a frog. The key chains, designed by Town Engineer Holly Chu, are available free of charge at Town Hall. The Fairfax County Department of Public Works and Environmental Services liked the idea so much that it recently produced its own key chain using an adaption of Vienna's fish mascot.

Vienna Names in the News

Congratulations to the James Madison High School girls' softball team for their wins at this year's district and regional championships. The dedication, skill, team spirit and hard work of everyone involved have made the Warhawks the most successful Group AAA girls' high school softball program in state history.

Town resident Rena Baker has been named Outstanding Volunteer of the Year by the Literacy Council of Northern Virginia. She has volunteered for over 34 years with the Literacy Council, a non-profit educational organization that recruits and trains volunteers to tutor adults in basic reading, writing and English speaking skills.

"CRITTER-PROOF" YOUR TRASH – Please make sure your trash cans are tightly covered so that rats, crows and other "critters" cannot get inside and scatter trash through the neighborhood. Did you know? Adding ammonia to trash bags before placing them at the curbside for pickup will help control odors and discourage animals and birds from tearing into the bags.

Christopher Weigand of Yeonas Drive, S.W., won the raffle for a toy truck at the Public Works Department's open house held in May at the Northside property yard. Miles Bowen, also of Yeonas Drive, S.W., and Jenny Karl of James Drive, S.W., each won a goldfish in a bowl.

The Virginia General Assembly terminated the photo red light camera enforcement program in Vienna and several other jurisdictions effective July 1. As a result, the Town's Police Department budget will reflect a reduction in costs associated with the program, reinforcing the Town's long-standing position that Vienna was not participating in this enforcement program as a money-making activity but rather as a matter of public safety.

Since Vienna began using the video cameras in 1999, over 13,000 citations have been processed, but in all but one of those years, the cost to operate the program has exceeded the revenue received from violators.

A report on red light cameras issued by the Virginia Transportation Research Council early this year found a significant decrease in the number of crashes directly related to red light running in Vienna. At the Maple Avenue/Follin Lane intersection, for example, the total number of crashes fell from 20 in 1999 to 9 in 2003.

Red light runners caused almost 5,000 crashes in Virginia in 2003, resulting in 18 deaths and more than 3,800 injuries.

Invest in a Memory!

Become an entertainment sponsor for the 59th annual Vienna Halloween Parade! This new opportunity will help to maintain the parade's excellent level of entertainment. Thrill your friends, kids, grandkids, office mates or potential clients by putting your name (or theirs!) in front of 35,000 parade watchers.

Your sponsorship of an individual parade entry will include:

- A personalized banner to carry in the parade – and to keep!
- Inclusion in the emcee's announcement about your entry
- A framed print commemorating the event
- Recognition by Vienna Town Council at its November meeting
- Public thanks in the Town of Vienna newsletter and the Vienna-Tysons Regional Chamber of Commerce Enterprise

For info, call Claire Liston at 703-281-1333.

Congratulations to the winners of the July 4th antique and classic car show: 1st place - Ed Gurney, 1929 Ford Model A, and 2nd place - Robert Juenger, 1970 Corvette Roadster.

Theatre Co. Needs Backstage Volunteers

If you can sew a hem or pound a nail, the theater needs you. The Vienna Theatre Company (VTC), sponsored by the Town of Vienna Department of Parks and Recreation, has announced its repertoire for the 2005-06 season. It will open in October with "Deathtrap," followed by "Enchanted April" in January, and will close with a VTC tradition, the musical "1776," which the company has performed every ten years since its founding in 1976.

There will be many opportunities to help with this season's productions, especially for those who can do basic carpentry and sewing. In addition, there is always a need for backstage workers. For more information or to volunteer, call 703-978-7818 or e-mail vtcshows@yahoo.com.

Dogs Must Be Leashed

Dog owners are reminded that it is against the law to let dogs run at large on public or private property (with the exception of the Vienna Dog Park, see article below). Dogs must be restrained by a dependable leash and controlled by a responsible person when off the property of the owner. Dogs found running at large may be picked up by the Animal Warden, and owners charged with dog-at-large violations must appear in court. Fines increase with each offense to a maximum of $250.

The Town of Vienna also has a "pooper scooper" ordinance that requires dog owners to clean up after their pets when out for a walk. Please be a responsible pet owner and don't allow your dog to foul the lawns of neighbors. Tip: The plastic sleeves used on newspapers make excellent pooper scoopers!

Signs are posted in several Town parks to remind pet owners that dogs are not allowed on athletic fields, tennis and basketball courts, playgrounds and picnic areas because of the nuisance and potential health hazard to park users. The Town Animal Warden is authorized to fine pet owners found in violation of these laws.

"Vienna Dogs" Invites You to the Park

The Vienna Dog Park is located at Moorefield Park, 700 Courthouse Rd., S.W., just off Nutley Street and adjacent to Fairfax County's Nottoway Park. The off-leash dog exercise area is enclosed by a chain link fence five feet high. The site includes benches, "doggie bag" dispensers and waste receptacles, and a source of water for the dogs.

The park is open daily from 7 a.m. until dark and its use controlled by rules posted on-site, including requirements that handlers must be at least 16 years old, maximum of two dogs per handler, handlers must "scoop the poop" and fill in any holes dug by their dogs, and no food (except doggie treats).

The Vienna Dog Park Association ("Vienna Dogs") is the sponsoring group for the park. Additionally, Vienna Dogs, an all-volunteer association that promotes responsible dog ownership, works with the Vienna Parks and Recreation Department to aid in park maintenance and provides social activities for dog owners.

For more information, visit www.viennadogs.org, or call 703-204-0399 or the Parks and Recreation Department at 703-255-6360.

"Project Lifesaver" Brings Loved Ones Home Safely

Project Lifesaver, sponsored by the Fairfax County Sheriff's Office, is a program that assists individuals with Alzheimer's disease, Down syndrome, autism, and related diseases and disabilities. Using state-of-the-art technology and a specially trained search and rescue team, the program locates wandering adults and children and returns them to their families and caregivers.

Project Lifesaver clients wear a personalized wristband that emits a silent tracking signal every second, 24 hours a day. The signal can be tracked on the ground or from the air over several miles. Since each wristband has a unique frequency, the Project Lifesaver search team can quickly locate a person who has wandered away from home.

The Project Lifesaver team comprises over 100 volunteers from within the Sheriff's Office, both sworn deputies and civilian staff members, who are trained and certified in electronic search and rescue. The technology used has reduced search times from hours and days to minutes.

To enter someone in the Project Lifesaver program, the following requirements must be met:

1. The client must be a resident of Fairfax County, Fairfax City, or the Towns of Vienna or Herndon.
2. The client must have a legally responsible caregiver willing to place the client in the program.
3. Clients and caregivers must abide by the conditions of the program and contract.
4. Complete the application process.

For more information, contact the Project Lifesaver coordinator at 703-246-2805 or write to: Project Lifesaver, Fairfax County Sheriff's Office, 10520-B Judicial Dr., Fairfax, VA 22030.

Individuals, organizations and businesses are needed to help fund and maintain this program for those who cannot afford it. To make a tax-deductible donation, contact the Project Lifesaver coordinator.
